What moves you?

WHEELCHAIR ACCESSIBLE VEHICLES

“My van is a lifeline.”

– Greg Winterbottom

“Without the van, it’s virtually impossible for me to travel,” says George Winterbottom. The 64-year-old lives in Orange County, California, and is now driving his fourth BraunAbility wheelchair van, each of which has allowed him to live and work independently in metro Los Angeles.

STEP TWO: CHOOSE REAR- OR SIDE-ENTRY

SIDE-ENTRY VAN

So what stands out with a side-entry vehicle? A lot! First of all, you'll love the maneuverability. In a side-entry vehicle, the entire floor of the vehicle is lowered to allow more room for a wheelchair user to navigate.

The front seats can be removed as well, allowing a wheelchair user to ride in the first-row position either from the wheelchair or by transferring into the original seat. If you are a driver or prefer to sit in the first-row position, a side-entry is likely your best fit.

REAR-ENTRY VAN

For many individuals and families, the rear-entry option is the ideal blend of convenience and practicality. The rear-entry is perfect for individuals who do not drive and do not need to ride in the first-row position.

Because only the rear portion of the vehicle is lowered, not the entire floor, the rear-entry is generally a more affordable option as well. This entry type has the added benefit of not relying on accessible parking spaces, as extra space is not required when entering and exiting.

STEP THREE: INFLOOR OR FOLDOUT FOR SIDE-ENTRY

FOLDOUT RAMP

The lightweight, aluminum ramp extends to allow easy access to the interior for wheelchairs and scooters. A durable, non-skid powder-coated finish ensures superior traction, and the slotted surface helps to prevent your chair from carrying debris into your van. In the event of power failure, the ramp can be operated manually.

The design of the rear-entry vehicle makes it ideal for a foldout ramp, which is easy to use and easy to maintain.

INFLOOR RAMP

An infloor ramp extends and retracts smoothly to allow easy access to the interior for wheelchairs and scooters. With a smooth transition plate and easy ramp angle, entry and exit are simple. A durable, non-skid powder-coated finish ensures superior traction, and the slotted surface helps prevent your chair from tracking in debris.

Out of sight, out of mind! An infloor ramp is completely concealed, so the interior is spacious and clear.

Find your perfect fit.

STEP FOUR: UNDERSTAND THE FEATURES

Removable Seating

For those who desire to ride up front or even drive from their wheelchair, BraunAbility makes it easy. Simply unlock the seat base and roll the entire seat out. The seats can be reinstalled into the vehicle just as easily when needed.

Keyless Remote

Both the automatic ramp and kneeling systems are integrated into the original vehicle's keyless remote for convenience at the push of a button.

Rear Cargo Area

BraunAbility side-entry options maintain ample rear cargo space behind the rear bench seat.

Manual Ramp

A manual ramp is offered on some vans and is ideal for a wheelchair user who will always travel with a companion who can raise and lower the ramp easily.

VS.

Automatic Ramp and Kneel

With the automatic ramp option, the van's door and ramp are operated with a key fob remote. Simply press a button and the door opens, the ramp deploys, and the van kneels.

Lighted Ramp

Infloor ramps offer an LED light strip that illuminates the path ahead when the ramp is deployed.

“Disability doesn’t care where you live, and neither should mobility.”

—Ralph Braun

RALPH BRAUN

The father of the mobility movement.

OUR FOUNDER RALPH BRAUN (1940-2013)

The story of BraunAbility begins with our founder, Ralph Braun. Diagnosed with spinal muscular atrophy and unable to walk by the age of 15, he was determined to find a better way to stay mobile than being pushed in a manual chair and carried in and out of vehicles.

He started by inventing the world’s first electric scooter, which he called the Tri-Wheeler. From there he designed the world’s first wheelchair lift and steering controls, allowing him to drive independently for the first time in his life. Ralph quickly discovered that others just like him were hungry for that same independence. With just a handful of employees and despite overwhelming odds, Ralph started his business, and a new industry emerged.

Over the past four decades, BraunAbility products have revolutionized what independence means to wheelchair users. Today BraunAbility has over 1,000 employees, all working to grow mobility across the world.

Five lessons from Ralph

1. Put the customer first.
2. No excuses.
3. Surround yourself with good people.
4. Never stop improving.
5. Believe in your God-given ability.
